"Another Church Troubic—Opposition to a Pastor—He Telks of Putting a Head on a Class Leader.—There is trouble in the congregation of the Union Bethel A. M. E. Church; it grows out of differences with the minister, the Rev., J. W. Stevenson, recently assigned to the pastorate of the church; he is from Pennsylvania; the congregation is divided, most of them taking sides against the minister; his unpopularity grows principally out of the fact that he has treated his congregation, members of it say, as if they had to be civilized, or as if they were in a state of the lowest barbarism. There has been some lively talk between minister and congregation. At a recent C. C. CARTER, President. lowest barbarism. There has been some lively tank between minister and congregation. At a recent meeting of the class leaders there was considerable of a row, it is said. The minister is reported to have pulled off his coat and threatened to put a head on one of the class leaders." > > The National Law-School.

The graduation exercises of the law department of the National University, which ook place in the Congregational Church last vening, will in after years be looked back to with ne most favorable impressions, as no effort had een spared to make the occasion a memorable one A platform had been erected in front of the pulpit, upon which the florist in charge, Mr. John H. Small. ad lavished the choicest designs of his art. In addition to the members of the graduating class upon the stage there were President Garfield Senator Morgan of Alabama, Justice MacArthur, ex-Mayor Emery, District Attorney Corkhill, Rev C. B. Ramsdell, and Messrs, H. H. Wells, sr., H. O. Slaughton, W. B. Webb, Enoch Totten, W. F. Mattingly, and W. J. Newton. Suspended by wires above the platform was the following inscription in white flowers: "Classes 1881, N. U.; Ubi lex ibi libertas," while the organ and other portions of the church occupied by the staging were completely veiled from view by flags, bunting, and floral offerings with most bewildering and luxuriant profusion.

A CO-OPERATIVE AGENT ABSCONDS

And Leaves Mementos Behind Him in the Shape of Dishonored Checks-A Co-operative Store Closed Until the Cash Account Can Be Examined.

The members of the Sovereigns' Co-oprative Association, an organization comprised alnost exclusively of Government clerks desirous of tion a joint meeting was held, during which the purchasing groceries at a uniform price, and whose affairs of the association were discussed, and the principal store is located at 1023 Seventh street northwest, are in a painful predicament, caused by the precipitate retirement of their manager, Mr. A. B. Schoffeld, with all the available funds of the board from the Governor of Virginia, the association, amounting to upward of $1,000, This association was formed about four years ago, and Schofield has since been in charge of the store at a regular and remunerative salary. At the last annual meeting in May AN APPARENT DISCREPANCY of over $400 was discovered by the auditing committee, which Schofield explained was caused by neglect to enter a number of receipted bills. He promised to straighten up the affair at once, and when the election for officers was held he was returned as one of the trustees and allowed to continue in charge of the store. His course, however, did not give satisfaction to a number of the members, who did not think that, in view of the shortage revelation, he was a proper custodian for their funds. Last Saturday matters reached a climax, when Schofield learned accidentally that he was to be superseded. About noon he told the cashier to give him what money there was in the till, as he needed it to pay bills of the association then due. He had previously taken all the money in the safe, and, with what he received from the cashier, had upward of $500 in cash. He did not return to the store again, but late in the evening his brother received a dispatch, dated in Baltimore, stating that he had been called away on business, and would send further particulars by mail. Monday morning his brotherin-law, Mr. Houck, received a letter from Schofield, in which he said that he had got into trouble and would not return to Washington. He also requested Mr. Houck to see that his wife was cared for, and to make the matter as light to her as possible. Further in the letter he said that his brother A HEAVY LOSER

smith. It is stated that the association will lose fully $1,000 by Schofield's disappearance, and, as his whereabouts at present are not known, no action has been taken looking to a prosecution. Among the victims of Schofield are Messrs. W. M. Galt & Co., flour dealers; his brother, Mr. S. T. and a lady named Butts. The latter had loaned Schofield $300, and had notes for the amount. She will not lose much, however, as she has attached the furniture in a store recently opened by Schofield on Seventh street. Mr. Galt had accepted two checks for flour purchased, and knew nothing of the flight of Schofield until the checks were dishonored, when he instituted an examination, and learned the story of his rascality. Mr. S. T. Schofield is out about $1,200 by his brother's action, and was waiting Saturday for a promised $300 when he received the telegram from Baltimore. THE BONDSMEN

Farewell," Apollo Glee Club. The benefit of Mr. John T. Ford, which takes place at the Opera-House to-night, is an event which should interest every lover of amusements in the city. For twenty-eight years Mr. Ford has been known to this city as a successful manager, and many eventful incidents in his career have taken place. An enumeration of the number of important enterprises that Mr. Ford has inaugurated would take too much space at present, but the credit he deserves for firm determination where other managers more timid have hesitated and halted until he has encouraged them by his own success should be cheerfully given. The attractions which are offered to-night should of themselves draw a crowded house. It is rarely that so many excellent artists, representing such different classes of talent, are brought to gether in one performance. Mme. Janauschek, Miss Minnie Palmer, Miss Rosa Rand, Miss Clara Cole, Little Rosebud, Mr. L. R. Shewell, Mr. Robwell known and appreciated here, and the plays, or rather parts of plays, selected, are such as to satisfy every variety of taste. It is to be hoped that the receipts to-night may prove that the entertainment will be a substantial benefit to Mr Ford.

THE MOUNT VERNON REGENTS.

Second Day's Session in the Old Manalon -Official Visitors. The regents of the Mount Vernon Association continued their sessions Tuesday afternoon and yesterday morning. Yesterday's session, after the arrival of the boat, was almost entirely given up to the reception and entertainment of the board of visitors and the advisory board. Mr. W. W. Corcoran, General N. W. Halstead, and Judge Ball represented the latter body. The board of visitors consisted of Judge Thomas, the J. M. Forbes. After the formalities of the recepboard expressed their gratification in the excellent management. Another topic under consideration was the invitation extended through desiring the presence of the Mount Vernon Association at the Yorktown Centennial. It was favorably considered by the regents, but laid aside for further deliberation. Later the visitors were entertained at luncheon, and an enjoyable time spent until the return of the boat. At the meeting yesterday afternoon the report of Colonel Hollingsworth was discussed. In this report the revenues the past year, as stated, amounted to $10,834.50; the expenditures, $10,223.68, leaving a balance of $610.82. The number of visitors were 15,180. Of these, 13,821 came by the boat, and 359 by road. The superintendent advocates the establishment of a deer park to carry out another original feature of the estate, so as to make the place even more attractive. The farm products this year promise favorably. Large crops of oats and rye will be harvested, and an unusually large corn and grass crop. Miss Longfellow, the vice-regent for Massachusetts, and Mrs. Lewis Washington, for Virginia, arrived yesterday, and will be present during the future deliberations of the conneil. The sessions will probably close on Friday. The recent death of Mrs. Fitch, the vice-regent of Indiana, leaves a vacancy that may be filled at this council, the vice-regents having the power to fill all vacancies that occur. The day was pleasantly spent by all, the number of visitors, besides those named, being unusually large. PHILADELPHIA'S PETS POUNDED.

Bicksler, and Emma Baker, against whom there are several indictments for counterfeitthe command of the Lincoln Light Infantry, and of England," Mr. Warren Young; 12, "Soldier's | ing and uttering counterfeit silver money, was called in the Criminal Court yesterday. A sensetional phase was given to this case by an alleged attempt on the part of the other defendants to poison Emma Baker in jail because she had 'peached." The three were brought up yesterday on a charge of uttering counterfeit money The district attorney entered a nolle pros. in the case of Emma Baker for the purpose of using her as a witness, and a motion for a severance in the case of Alice Rupp was granted, so Bicksler went to trial alone. As no evidence was produced showing that Bicksler had passed any of the counterfeit money the jury returned a verdict of not guilty by instruction of the court. There are three similar indictments against Bicksler, which will probably fall through. One charging him with having in his possession counterfeit money will be tried to-day, and the district attorney will then

More About that River Swindle. No wonder a great many people were swindled who took the Arrowsmith for an excursion on Decoration Day. Whipple and Shattuck, who gave the excursion, say that they had an arrangement with Phillips, the superintendent of the Arrowsmith, that he would sell tickets to the river landings only, the usual stopping-places of the boat, and charge the usual fare each way, which is fifty cents, and then, on the Sunday previous to their testimony. At the present rate of progress it the excursion, he advertised to sell round-trip tickets to the mouth of the Potomac and back for fifty cents, after Whipple and Shattuck had advertised and sold tickets for the same trip all the week for seventy-five cents. They claim that Phillips did not keep his agreement, and they do not blame people who were apparently swindled Bowen and M. M. Holland as District Commis- for complaining. "AMERICAN BELL TELEPHONE CO., 86 Milk street, Boston, Mass. W. H. FORBES, President.

THEO, N. VAIL, General Manage This company is desirous of arranging with person f responsibility to establish in their immediate local ty District or Exchange Systems similar to those now operation in nearly all the large cities of the country. By the adoption of this system an unlimited num ber of subscribers in any city or town, located on lines radiating from a common centre, cao, by means of facilities afforded at the Central Office, be put in in-stant speaking communication one with another. This system is strictly local in its character, and does not ntemplate the transmi tomers from one city or town to another.

The company also desires energetic and responsible parties to act as local agents for the following purposes:

CLUB SYSTEMS FOR SOCIAL PUR-Poses, where five or more subscribers can be obtained on a ingle telephone wire. This system will be found very convenient in the smaller towns and villages. where a District or Exchange System could not be maintained.

To establish telephonic lines between cities and fowns where the District and Exchange or the Club System is already in use, for the purpose of affording scilities for personal communication between the subscribers or customers of such systems. To estab-lish telephonic lines between outlying villages and the market or shire town, in order to furnish means for the transmission of messages between points not con-nected of telegraph.

The American Bell Telephone Company directly, or through its regular agents, proposes to make a spe cialty of introducing the Telephone for PRIVATE LINE PURPOSES, connecting residences with places of business, residences with outbuildings, offices with manufactories, &c., &c. Also, to take the place of SPEAKING TUBES, connect different parts of one building or detached dulidings of any group. The system is especially ap-dicable to large hotels, as it allows of instant speak. ing communication between the room of any gnost and the office; or, if desired, it may be used for con-versation between guests in different rooms. This feature can hardly fail to recommend itself, espec ally to the keepers of hotels and boarding-houses at places of summer resort,"
